SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO. 25X1X

1. There was an airfield about 6 miles east of KIROVABAD, Azerbaijan SSR ($46^{\circ}22' E/40^{\circ}41' N$), on both sides of the road to YEVLAKH ($47^{\circ}9' E/40^{\circ}37' N$). It had no concrete runway.
2. The landing field was south of the road. About 120 aircraft, including 60 twin-engine bombers and the remainder single-engine fighters, were parked in the section of the airfield north of the road. Both types have been known to the PWs since the war.
3. A hill with at least four underground cement bunkers was about 650 feet south of the airfield. Tractors and trailers hauled bombs, 3 to 5 feet long, from the bunkers to the airfield.

[redacted] Comment:

a. This is assumed to be the previously reported airfield of KIROVABAD. Only fighters and trainers had been [redacted] there.

25X1C

b. Although the number of aircraft [redacted] at the relatively small and little improved airfield seems to be overrated, it is possible that the airfield was occupied by a fighter and a bomber unit or by a training unit.
